WHAT IS NADOLONI?

nadoloni helps travellers explore a city without joining a tour group or planning every stop themselves. Choose a route, open the map and listen to each story where it happened.

Each stop is built around a person, event, conflict or unexpected detail rather than a list of dates. Every story is researched, written and edited specifically for the route.

WHAT THE USER GETS

- Original stories. Short narrative pieces about the people, events and details behind a place, rather than dry reference text.
- A ready-made walk. The route and stop order are already planned, so there is no need to build an itinerary or save dozens of pins.
- Audio on the go. Stories can be downloaded in advance for offline listening. An internet connection is required for the map.
- No subscription. Each route is a one-time purchase. The first 5 stories on every route are free.
